Organizes a Nine Hour Online Workshop

On

The Innovative Use of Information and Communication Technology in Teaching- Learning and Research

(Date: 6th, 8th and 9th June, 2020)

About the Workshop:

Restructuring Higher Education is a key reform of the National Education Policy. It has been observed that technology plays a vital role in Teaching, Learning and Evaluation. NMEICT was introduced a decade ago for the benefit of all learners in Higher Educational Institutions and is believed to have increased the GER by 5% in XI Five Year Plan. The two major components were providing connectivity and content generation. Keeping in line with the same, the NEP focuses on e-learning, setting up of virtual laboratories, online availability of teachers and mentors.

The sudden closure of educational institutions in response to the Covid-19 pandemic has necessitated the adoption of online teaching learning strategies. During this period students too have adopted and adapted to the change in pedagogical tools and means. Technological innovations are inexorable and at the same time inextricable from the processes of social change and advancement.

The workshop will emphasize on all features of Google Drive, emphasizing on collaborative work, evaluation, own website development, use of Google platform for attendance and LMS, as a whole. Also hands on training on e-module development and publishing the same shall be provided.

We are already using e-resources through NLIST, NDLI, EPG Paathshala, E-Shodhganga etc. The workshop shall emphasize on the access and use of digital information.

SCHEDULE OF THE WORKSHOP

Use of technology which was initially boasted as best practice of an HEI is now a basic means of communication between the teacher and the taught.

Use of ICT in Research, too, is well established. Secondary Data collection and analysis using free software shall, therefore, be one of the key areas of the proposed workshop.

The World has dramatically changed with the incorporation of Information and Communication Technology in almost every field of our social life, and education, too, with an optimum and efficacious use of digital platforms, has undergone a virtual metamorphosis over the last few years. The pandemic has only exposed us to the potentialities and possibilities of information and communication technology (ICT) as a way to see as well as to change the very concept of education in the days to come. The Primary objective of the workshop, spreading over a total of 9 hours, is to motivate the teaching fraternity for enlivening the teaching process with the use of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) and to equip the teachers with the latest assessment tools of higher education.

This workshop has opened up newer avenues to the professionals and motivated them to use ICT for the benefit of the HEI.

Sudden surge of online teaching –learning during recent times of pandemic has pointed out many practical solutions too which the teaching fraternity must be acquainted with.

Different online platforms for continuing teaching-learning have already been explored.

“Online” is the buzzword of 21st Century teaching –learning and research. Online education is an important aspect of learning now.

To cope up with the changing trend and attitude, the teaching fraternity explored the intricacies of the tools and techniques that ICT has posed before them.

Now summarising the message of this workshop, this interactive workshop has thrown light on the significant areas of ICT application by the speakers of the participating colleges.

- Using web based applications and platforms for effective teaching –learning and evaluation.
- Approach for implementing and integrating ICT using some easily accessible applications.
- E content creation and management.
- Creating and publishing e modules(IR)
- use of e resources in higher education teaching and learning,
- Enhancement of teaching learning endeavors through innovative approach towards e-resources.
- Data collection and analysis using free software.
- Management of repositories.
