BRIEF REPORT:

1. Name of the Event/ Activity: Workshop on MOOC massive open online course and Google classroom.

2. Date of the event: 19th July 2020

3. Venue of the event: online

4. Nature of the activity: Professional Development Workshop.

5. Level of the activity: state level.

6. Name of the collaborators: department of computer science Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya Central Library, Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya and IQAC Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya.

7. Purpose, aim or objective of the event: To communicate about MOOCs and their significance for the professional development of the faculty and to deliver a special hands on experience with the courses on the NPTEL swayam portal. MOOCs are specially helpful in developing a learner-centric teaching approach by the way of teaching a course in an entirely different way during the pandemic time. A teacher had to plan for change in pedagogy, enrich the study materials and include new content for online teaching learning. MOOCs shall help to update with the latest technology for interactive course structure. MOOCs shall essentially give the tips to grab the attention of the students and MOOCs make teachers to be more tech savvy.

The session on Google classroom was planned for continuing online teaching-learning during the COVID 19 pandemic period. The students needed total online support for continuing their studies. Handling the components of Google classroom and creation of content in Google classroom, handling the class work, handling the students attendance and uploading content on the platform was a very new thing for every teacher during the pandemic period for continuing the teaching learning.

8. Resource persons

Debashish Barman, Department of Computer Science Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya. He explained about Google classroom, how to create and manage classes, assignments, and discussions. He also highlighted the fact that Google classroom is a user friendly tool that can be easily accessed by both students and teachers. He demonstrated about how to create a class in Google classroom and how to add assignments and announcements.

Dr. Suchismita Majumdar, librarian, Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya.

Started by explaining the concept of MOOCs and its benefits. She mentioned that MOOCs provide an opportunity for individuals to learn from the best experts in their field of knowledge around the world. She also emphasises that MOOC courses are free and can be accessed by anyone and anytime. She demonstrated how to sign up for online courses and keep updated and how to navigate through the course materials and how the MOOCs can be highly beneficial for the teacher to create new pedagogy.

9. Beneficiaries

Students and teachers of different colleges in West Bengal.

No. of Participants: 40

10. Outcome of the activity.

Google form feedback was collected to understand the level of satisfaction of the attendees of the workshop. The responses revealed an interest in knowing more about MOOCs as well as Moodle, virtual classroom creations and more. The participants approached organising more interactive sessions or professional development workshops on relevant topics to handle teaching learning because they were very much satisfied with the professional development Workshop at the right moment of embarking a new journey on online-teaching learning during the COVID 19 Pandemic, which was organised not only for the faculty members of Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya but also other colleges in West Bengal. Many faculty members from other colleges of West Bengal had participated in this professional development workshop and enriched their expertise to handle the online platform for teaching-learning was possible. Requirements for conducting professional development sessions according to the infrastructure of any particular college and the level of the students were also suggested by the participants.

The workshop on MOOCs and Google classroom organised by Sir Gurudas Mahavidyalaya was a great success. The participants gained valuable insights into the world of online learning and the use of Google classroom as a tool for online teaching and learning. The speakers Debashish Barman and Dr. Suchismita Majumdar did an excellent job in explaining the concepts and demonstrating how to use the tools. The event was a great learning opportunity for all the participants and we hope that more search workshops will be organised in the future.
