REPORT ON THE PROGRAM

Date: 26th November 2024

Venue: Satyajit Sabhakaksha

Resource Person: Dr. Debashish Mitra, Associate Professor, Diamond Harbour Women's University

The event commenced at 2 pm with a warm welcome address by the Head of the Department, Dr. Dipannita Sanyal, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, who highlighted the importance of Constitution Day and its historical significance. This was followed by a brief introduction of the esteemed resource person, Dr. Debashish Mitra, a distinguished scholar and expert in constitutional law.

Keynote Address by Dr. Debashish Mitra

Dr. Mitra delivered an insightful keynote address on the topic, “ Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Indian Constitution ” His lecture emphasized:

1. Historical Perspective:

- Insights into the socio-political conditions during the drafting of the Constitution.
- Contributions of leaders like Dr. B.R. Ambedkar and their interdisciplinary approach to addressing societal challenges.

2. Legal and Political Perspective:

- The Constitution as the cornerstone of India's legal and political systems.
- Discussion on judicial review, federalism, and the separation of powers.

3. Economic Perspective:

- Analysis of constitutional provisions such as Directive Principles of State Policy that guide economic policymaking.
- How constitutional values drive inclusive growth and sustainable development.

4. Sociological Perspective:

- The Constitution's role in addressing caste, gender, and other social inequalities.
- Case studies on landmark judgments related to affirmative action and social justice.

OUTCOME OF THE PROGRAM

The Constitutional Day celebration, centered around the theme “Interdisciplinary Perspectives on the Indian Constitution,” achieved several significant outcomes:

1. Enhanced Understanding:

- Participants gained a deeper appreciation of the Indian Constitution as a dynamic document influencing legal, political, economic, sociological, and technological domains.
- The lecture provided clarity on the Constitution’s relevance in addressing contemporary challenges such as climate change, data privacy, and social justice.

2. Promotion of Interdisciplinary Thinking:

- The program emphasized the importance of exploring constitutional principles through multiple lenses, encouraging interdisciplinary collaboration in academics and policymaking.

3. Engaged Participation:

- The interactive session fostered critical thinking, with students and faculty raising thought-provoking questions about the Constitution’s application in their respective fields.
- The active dialogue underscored the need for a holistic approach to understanding constitutional issues.

4. Renewed Commitment to Constitutional Values:

- The collective reading of the Preamble served as a symbolic reaffirmation of the commitment to the values of justice, liberty, equality, and fraternity enshrined in the Constitution.

5. Academic and Professional Insights:

- Participants left the program with actionable insights that could be incorporated into academic research, teaching, and professional practices.
- The event encouraged further exploration of constitutional themes through interdisciplinary projects and discussions.
